PUBLICATION

This is your yearbook. It is a record of treasured memories. It is a priceless keepsake that cannot be replaced. It will last a lifetime if treated with care. Handle it as you would any other new book. Open it first down the center and press gently with the palm of your hands. Then begin to open it to other places following the same procedure, until you have opened every page, from cover to cover. This will avoid undue strain on the binding.

Do not store your book close to extreme heat, such as a radiator or heat duct. Do not leave it lying in the hot sun; it is fresh off the press and must have time to cure thoroughly before it is handled too much. Avoid getting it wet. Paper will soak up water.

Any abuse will damage your book. Careful observance of these instructions will help to make your book a lasting record of happy memories. Good luck!

NINETEEN HUNDRED
SIXTY-TWO EDITION

Charley Manning and Jeanne Chapin observe the historical marker on South Main Street.

In the history of McKean County, Port Allegany has played a significant part. In its role as an early settlement, it acquired the second name of "Canoe Place." It was from this community that the Indians and pioneers placed their canoes and rafts into the Allegheny River and continued their westward movement. Port Allegany was the logical Canoe Place because it was located at the end of the twenty-three mile portage which crossed from the headwaters of the Susquehanna to the headwaters of the Allegheny.

In a similar manner, the Seniors continue from Port Allegany. It is the "Canoe Place" for the beginning of their adult life.

We the class of 1962 present on the following pages a record of the faculty, curriculum, special events, clubs, athletics, and students that had part in the school year of 1961-1962.

DEDICATION

Although Mr. Swinsick didn't start teaching in Port Allegany until our class entered the eighth grade, he has taught nearly all of the members of the Class of 1962. As our teacher, Mr. Swinsick was always frank and fair. He was never too busy to answer a request for help and above all he respected the ideas and opinions of each individual.

To us, however, Mr. Swinsick is more than just a respected teacher. He is our friend who has always been willing to help with class activities which include plays, dances, and musical productions. Many times we have sought and heeded his excellent advice.

Therefore, we, the Class of 1962, dedicate our Tiger Lily to our friend and teacher Mr. Robert E. Swinsick.

"Not only is there an art in knowing a thing, but also a certain art in teaching it."

Mr. Thomas, new to our school in January, instructs reading to 8-4.

Having graduated from Port High in 1954, Mr. Thomas entered Lock Haven State College where he majored in Elementary Education.

Mr. Robert Thomas began teaching at Port Allegany High School on January 30, 1962. He is teaching seventh and eighth grade reading and 7-4 and 8-4 mathematics.

FACULTY

Miss Janice Tapper

Mr. Kelsey helps Gordon Link (left) and Joe Roberts to solve a math problem.

Miss Janice Tapper assumed the position as girls' physical education teacher on January 29, 1962 when Mrs. Margaret Tronetti resigned.

Having graduated from West Newton High School at Perryopolis, Pennsylvania, Miss Tapper attended California State College. After completing one year at California State College, Miss Tapper transferred to Slippery Rock State College where she completed her last three years. She majored in Health and Physical Education.

Miss Tapper says that her main interest is to develop an enjoyable physical education program for the girls at Port High.

CURRICULUM

Retiring this year from the Junior-Senior High School was Mrs. Rose Licastro. Mrs. Licastro has taught for thirty-nine years in the vicinity of Port Allegany.

Completing high school in 1919, Mrs. Rose Licastro began her college education in 1921 at Lock Haven State College and completed her college work at St. Bonaventure University.

Along with her other duties, Mrs. Licastro initiated the seventh and eighth grade reading classes which were designed to develop better reading skills in the students. Mrs. Licastro was also advisor for the Future Teacher Club and the Junior Red Cross.

Mrs. Licastro teaches reading to the 7-4 students.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

ASSOCIATE SUPERINTENDENT MR. ALBERT SKELTON

Primarily concerned with the smooth operation of the entire school system, Mr. Skelton directs this operation from his office in the Junior-Senior High School. It is through his work with the principals and the Board of Education that our school policy is formed.

This year the school district witnessed the completion of the new elementary building at Roulette. Plans were also completed for the addition to the Junior-Senior High School. This new addition is a result of continued effort to improve and add to the school's curriculum, to abide by new state requirements, and to house increased enrollment.

"As you strive to help mankind, you must meet the responsibility of knowing where man has been and where man is going before you proclaim that he is on the wrong road."

MR. ROBERT STROMBERG

HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

As head of the junior-senior high school, Mr. Stromberg has many responsibilities. It is his duty to supervise students and teachers, handle disciplinary problems, speak to the students in assembly programs, and encourage school and community spirit.

There is an intangible bond of friendship between the students and their principal, for it is with Mr. Stromberg that they discuss their problems, plan their activities, and solve their classes' financial difficulties.

Mr. Stromberg is to be commended on the thoroughness, efficiency, and friendliness with which he runs the school.

"Did you check with your teacher first?"

MR. FOREST WATKINS

GUIDANCE COUNSELOR

As Guidance Director, Mr. Watkins is available for consultation with the students concerning their courses, future education, and careers. Mr. Watkins also plans and administers intelligence, achievement, college aptitude, and interest inventory tests.

"The results of this testing will be available in my office in the next few weeks."

Administrative conference in Mr. Skelton's Office.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Top row: Mrs. Lucille Church, Mrs. Dorothea Goodrich, Mrs. Eleanor Michelitsch.
Bottom row: Mr. Garth Nelson, Mr. Charles Phalon, Mr. Hugh Thompson.

In reality a policy-making group, the Board of Education consists of seven members duly elected from the school district. These citizens unselfishly give of their time and talent and are devoted to the betterment of our educational system. Two new members elected this year were Hugh Thompson and Charles Phalon. The two former members were Ralph Burdich who moved from the district and Michael Herger who served until the expiration of his term.

Mrs. Evelyn Knapp
Secretary to the administrative office.

Mrs. Leah Lewis
Superintendent's secretary and secretary to the Port Allegany
Union School Board.

A sight familiar to many students in the school is Mrs. Johnson working eagerly behind her desk. One of Mrs. Johnson's many tasks is distributing the absentee reports to each home room.

In the General Office, Mrs. Lewis handles Mr. Skelton's correspondence and makes appointments for the administration. She also makes out the monthly payroll and bill list for the Board of Education.

Serving the administrative office is Mrs. Knapp. It is her responsibility to assist in secretarial matters of the high school office and administrative office. Mrs. Knapp takes and places all phone calls in and out of the building.

NURSES AND DOCTOR

Mrs. Michelitsch, Mrs. Lesslie, and Dr. Hanna compose the health staff at the Port Allegany Union High School. Mrs. Michelitsch and Mrs. Lesslie work together in assisting Dr. Hanna in administering physical examinations to students.

The nurses measure and weigh the boys for sports, give medical aid to students, and assist in the senior X-rays. Also all excuses for absences are checked by the nurses. This check sometimes necessitates the visitation of the homes of students.

Dr. Dwight Hanna

Mrs. Anita Lesslie

Mrs. Helen Michelitsch

CAFETERIA PERSONNEL

L. to R.: Mrs. Greenhill, Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Newton, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Baker, and Mrs. Brown.

Cafeteria employees, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Greenhill, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Newton, Mrs. Baker, and Mrs. App, devote their time to producing well-balanced meals for Port High students.

This year the number eating daily in the cafeteria has increased.

Although the lunch hour starts at 12:00 and ends at 1:00, the preparation for the meal starts as early as the day previous.

In addition to the regular meals, the cafeteria personnel always serve special holiday dinners.

MAINTENANCE AND CUSTODIAL PERSONNEL

Maintenancemen, Mr. Rittburg, Mr. Saiers, and Mr. Baker, keep the school in running order during the day. Custodians, Mr. and Mrs. Gallup clean up after seven hundred students during the evening. Considering the amount of dirt that accumulates in a large school, the work of the maintenance and custodial personnel should be appreciated.

Curriculum may be defined "as the educational experiences that students have in school." Actually, curriculum provides a meaningful program for the student's scholastic career.

At Port Allegany, there are six major courses offered to accommodate a wide range of students.

"Histories make men wise; poets witty; the mathematics subtle; natural philosophy deep; moral grave; logic and rhetoric, able to contend."

—Francis Bacon

CURRICULUM

Mr. McLaughlin awaits translation of Spanish sentence from students.
L. to R. Bruce Freeman and Tom Lyman.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Foreign languages are taught to give the student linguistic skills. The student also acquires thoughts, ideas, emotions, and the cultural factors of foreign countries. The foreign languages offered in this high school are Latin, French, and Spanish.

SPEECH

At the beginning of the 1961-1962 school year, thirteen seniors elected the speech course. In speech, the students learn to develop voice qualities, posture, enunciation, and poise. Under Mr. Thomas Sayers instructions, the students organize, write, and present their speeches to the class. An added opportunity provides the seniors to address the Rotary Club.

"Language is the only instrument of science, and words are but the signs of ideas."

Mrs. Glesk goes over English paper with Judy Sullins during sophomore English class.

ENGLISH

The aim of the high school English curriculum is to help the student develop to the maximum of his individual ability. He should learn to think clearly and logically and should be able with clarity and with a degree of correctness to communicate his thoughts either in writing or in speech. He should develop sensitivity to beauty and to the feelings of others by responding to literature. He should become aware of the significance of language and his responsibility in using it. The study of English should be practically and socially useful and permanently rewarding to the mind and spirit.

MATHEMATICS

Mathematics in high school prepares the student to cope with mathematical problems of everyday life, as well as to provide a basic foundation for those students who will further their education in college. Mr. Howard Owen, a new member of the mathematics department, is a graduate of Edinboro State College. Mr. Owen teaches advanced math which includes trigonometry and calculus.

*"So if a man's wit be wandering, let him study the mathematics;
for in demonstrations, if his wit be called away ever so little,
he must begin again."*

"Equipped with his five senses, man explores the universe around him and calls the adventure Science."

— Hubble

Port Allegany's science program attempts to develop the student to use his fullest scientific potential. For the student who does not expect to use or study science extensively in the future, the general science program offers that material which he will need in practical, everyday living. Additional courses include biology, chemistry, and physics. The biology course is required of all students; physics and chemistry are electives.

27

SCIENCE

Chemistry helps the student discover what the world is made of and how the scientific method has expanded our knowledge. The student learns to develop his skill in using symbols, formulas, and equations. The student also becomes familiar with the fundamental laws and theories of chemistry and how their application serves mankind.

Chemistry students set up apparatus to start experimentation. Bruce Brundage, Joe Stevenson, Jerry Tarbox, Mike Manning.

Mr. Russ makes use of the map in his social studies class. The students are L. to R. Carol Astle, Howard Turner, and Susan McElwee.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Designed to develop good citizens, the social studies curriculum teaches students to better understand their surroundings.

Using text books, current events, and individual thought and research, the students study to seek truth as they weigh facts in a free educational system. It is this truth that will keep us free in a democratic society. Social studies prepares the student to fulfill his obligation to his family, his community, his nation, and his world.

"History is Philosophy learned from examples."

Mr. Poole questions the students during class about Problems of Democracy. L. to R.: Keith Hildreth, Earline Brewer, Janet Tenglund, Jane Kester, Jerry Goodrich, Stephen Shelley, Julie Knowlton, Mary Pat Rowan.

Mrs. Ann Kannally, new to the commercial department, proceeds with her class of shorthand pupils.

COMMERCIAL

Giving a knowledge of business activities, the commercial department teaches the student the necessary practical and vocational skills. Fundamental processes are applied to practical business situations and the abilities to perform, such as those used in typing and shorthand, are improved extensively. Fluency and correctness in writing are taught and business vocabulary is stressed—especially in shorthand and office practice classes. The student is also taught to develop the personal qualities that are necessary for a successful business career.

"It is easy to escape from business, if you will only despise the rewards of business."

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

Students enrolled in the Vocational Agricultural course are interested in farming or other agricultural occupations. Their course of study during their high school career consists of instruction and training in the field of agriculture. They cover such subjects as animal husbandry, soil conservation, farm management, and rural law.

"Let us never forget that the cultivation of the earth is the most important labor of man."

—Daniel Webster

VOCATIONAL HOME ECONOMICS

The purpose of homemaking is to help the individual to live a more useful and satisfying personal, family, and community life. An opportunity is provided for each girl to learn the skills and facts of homemaking so that she can efficiently and enjoyably manage a comfortable, happy, and profitable home in the future.

*"The Beauty of the House is Order;
The Blessing of the House is Contentment;
The Glory of the House is Hospitality;
The Crown of the House is Godliness."*

VOCATIONAL INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Industrial Arts concerns itself with the materials, processes, and products of manufacture and with the contribution of those engaged in industry. The learnings come through the student's experience with tools and materials and through his study of resultant conditions of life. The student has enough freedom of selection in his work to create and discover his interests.

"By the work one knows the workman."

—La Fontaine

Marvin Roberts utilizes the radial arm saw to complete his project.

Corky Baker and other Vocational Agriculture students learn to use the Arc Welder.

Seniors (L. to R.) Carolyn Williams, Donna Weeks, Nan Mains, and Jean Chapin consult notes in Mrs. Ahl's Home Economics class.

Charley Manning, under the supervision of Mr. Taylor, operates the band saw.

HEALTH

Eighth graders receive a general knowledge of health and a foundation for the material they will study during their junior year. Juniors study methods of First Aid, Health, and Hygiene with emphasis placed on accident treatment and prevention, treatment and prevention of disease, and personal fitness.

"A sound mind in a sound body is a thing to be prayed for."

"Orandum est ut sit mens sana in corpore sano."

Senior Eddie Burgess identifies parts of the mannequin for Mr. Dann.

Mrs. Tronetti's Freshman Gym Class in position for exercises. The leader of the group is Cindy Fortner.

In the classroom, students learn such material as rules of safety and the proper names and functions of each part of a car. In actual behind-the-wheel training, students are taught safe sportsmanlike driving and become careful, alert drivers who realize that it is a privilege to drive.

"Drive carefully, the life you save may be your own."

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The purpose of the Physical Education Department is to provide instruction in wholesome physical activities which promote the growth of strong, healthy bodies.

This year's gym classes included instructions in volleyball, basketball, soccer, wrestling, tumbling, dancing, and the use of the Swedish box and trampoline.

"Health and good estate of body are above all gold and a strong body above infinite wealth."

SAFETY EDUCATION

Mr. Leland Stahlman was the new teacher of Driver Training this year. Juniors with Mr. Stahlman are Donna Mantz and Dick Van Nette.

ART

Art activities take into consideration the differences in individual students. Each pupil has his own way of seeing, thinking, and feeling and this must be discovered by the pupil himself. Through working with their hands in creative experiences and through observation the student develops his likes and dislikes. Art problems help the student to discover his creative ability and grow in his own individual way.

Appreciation, the awareness and enjoyment of beauty, is implied or suggested as part of every art problem. Art teaches students to be aware of art of past ages and the beauty of nature around us.

MUSIC

In the field of education, music is the universal language which leads to the formation of a well-educated individual. A well planned music program develops a better understanding and appreciation of music through learning, listening, and participation.

"As the sun colours flowers so does art colour life"

— Lubbock

"Music is the universal language of mankind."

— Longfellow

Music is one of the steps of learning which leads to the ultimate goal of the well-educated person. The main objective of an instrumental lesson is to discover and develop the talent and the ability of the individual. Preparation for band members starts in elementary school and continues through junior high.

"Lock, Stock and Lipstick"

When school reopens at Pembroke High School, Gordon Warren, the guidance counselor, returns to the fall semester of school only to find that the Board of Education has decided to add a woman counselor to the staff. Gordon is a meticulous type of man who must have everything in its place, and a place for everything.

Because of the housing shortage the attractive and happy-go-lucky girls' counselor moves into Mr. Warren's hallowed domain lock, stock, and lipstick.

This battle between neatness and havoc took place on December 8, 1961, in the high school auditorium. The Senior Play was under the direction of Mr. John Russ.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

L. to R.: Sharleen Simar, Sandra Buckley, Beverly Mantz, Judith Gamble, Sterling Baker, Dolores Hovis, Laine Tampuu, and Linda Culver.

With the theme of "South Pacific," the Class of '62 entertained the Class of '61 at last year's Junior-Senior Prom. The Prom was held in the high school gymnasium on Saturday evening, May 13.

Approximately 200 students watched as Judith Gamble was crowned Queen of the Prom by Sterling Baker, junior class president. Members of Judy's court, elected by the juniors, were Sharleen Simar, Sandra Buckley, Beverly Mantz, Dolores Hovis, Laine Tampuu, and Linda Culver.

Mr. Richard Taylor, right, with his wife, Judy, was one of the junior class advisors. Other advisors were Mrs. Diane Babcock, Mr. Robert Brown, Mrs. Lorraine Gillen, and Mrs. Margaret Tronett.

Above Mr. Taylor is the revolving, mirrored sphere which was purchased for the Prom by the Class of '62. Fleeting wisps of color reflecting from the sphere accented the decorations for the Prom.

Judith Gamble and her court wait in the faculty room with junior class advisors, Mrs. Margaret Tronetti and Mrs. Lorraine Gillen, before the crowning of the Queen of the Prom.

Members of the Prom Steering Committee consisted of two representatives from each course of study. They centered the decorations, refreshments, and entertainment around the theme, "South Pacific," which was chosen by members of the junior class.

FASHION SHOW

In May 1961, the Home Economics Department sponsored a May Day Fashion Show. Under the direction of Mrs. Diane Babcock and Mrs. Eileen Ahl, the gym was transformed into a May Day garden.

Girls of Home Economic classes modeled their fashions which they had made. A queen and her court were chosen to reign over the festival. Two girls from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes composed the court. The queen, Judy Gamble, was also selected from the senior class.

JUNIOR PLAY

On March 18, 1961, the juniors presented their class play. It was a three act farce entitled "Mister-Coed." Highlights of the play were Tom Jewart's representation of Lotus Blossom, a girl; John Glesk's character as Homer Quackenbush, the janitor; and the other cast members who equally played their part well. The play was directed by Mr. Clair Campbell and Mr. John Russ.

Kay Cochran aids Tom Jewart in becoming a lady.

ASSEMBLIES

Mr. Adam Shaffer, one of our assembly speakers, presented films on Guatemala and Mexico. These were both colorful and educational.

Mr. Shaffer's program was similar to the films on Russia which were narrated by Mr. David Paul.

FUTURE NURSES CLUB

A newly organized club is the Future Nurses. It consists of senior high students who plan a nursing career. The members learn practical techniques of everyday nursing. The club is anticipating field trips to different medical institutions of this vicinity. Under Mrs. Helen Micheltsch's direction, the club is awaiting membership in the national Future Nurses Club.

L. to R.: Shirley Snyder, Anita Brundage, Dawn Pfeil, Jane Kester, Betty Burg, Claudia Wendt, and Jayne Schroll learn to apply dressings and bandages.

CHESS CLUB

Directed by Mr. Russ, the Chess Club members are able to experience those long periods of concentration which lead to the mastering of chess.

Sterling Baker and Jim Carlson concentrate for the ultimate checkmate.

MODEL BUILDERS CLUB

Subjects of the Model Builders Club are autos, airplanes, and boats. Of special interests to the club are customizing kits. Under Mr. Owen's direction, members build and repair their models.

Standing: Roger Bean, Albert Caffo, Mr. Owen, and Jim Tilly. Seated: Brian Connolly, David Stauffer, and Tom Johnson.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

L. to R.: Sterling Baker, Marcia Bozzo, Richard Eicher, Kay Cochran, and Barbara Brown.

These five members pictured above were selected in the spring of their junior year. Additional members were chosen from the senior class this spring. Under the direction of their new sponsor, Mrs. Ann Kanally, the society also indoctrinated juniors.

Membership in this select group, because of the high entrance requirements and the accompanying prestige, is the aim of many high school students.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council is a student advisory group. It consists of four officers elected from the whole student body and a representative plus his alternate from each home room. The purpose of this organization is to study problems relating to the student body and discuss them with the administration.

One of the major projects for the Student Council this year was the Clothing Drive For Needy Children.

Although the school was not able to obtain a foreign exchange student this year, the proceeds from the Council's projects for the last two years will be designated for the next exchange student.

CONCERT BAND

Band played an important part in high school life this year. Directed by Mr. Moyer, band members participated in two formal concerts, many assembly programs, and added much enthusiasm to pep rallies. During the football season, Band played for all home games and presented half-time routines.

Band members attended County Band, District Band, and Tom Hines represented the school at State Band. These musical functions served a dual purpose: they afforded students a chance to broaden their musical abilities and also permitted students to meet competition in the field of music.

Officers were Marcia Bozzo, president; Tom Hines, vice-president; Kay Cochran, secretary; Cheryl Greenhill, treasurer.

The concert is over and found putting their instruments away are (l. to r.) Christine Anderson, Margaret Glesk, Carol Rowan, Darlene Anderson, Gladys Pheil, and Elizabeth Caffo.

CHORUS

This year the first semester's work was climaxed by an impressive Christmas program which placed emphasis on the birth of Christ.

Mrs. Dunn is directing the senior high chorus during the Christmas choral concert.

Under the direction of Mrs. Dunn, the senior high mixed chorus practices every Wednesday during the fifth period in preparation for its annual programs.

After the Christmas program, the chorus began practicing formal music for its spring concert.

Christmas Choral Concert was held December 20.

The junior high chorus works closely with the senior high in its program preparation. Although its music is not as difficult as the senior high's, they, also, spend much time in preparation for their programs, which precede the senior high's concerts.

VESTED CHOIR

Vested Choir, directed by Mrs. June Dunn, is composed of forty high school students. Set apart from the chorus, Vested members wear choir robes and are of superior music ability. In Vested Choir, individual music qualities are stressed.

The group is a more intimate one than the chorus. Individuals are encouraged to display their abilities. In this Choir, Mrs. Dunn has the opportunity to work closely with the members in developing these music skills.

OPERETTA

In the spring of 1961, music and dramatic departments combined to present "An Evening with Rodgers and Hammerstein." Mr. Swinsick, head of the dramatic department, supervised set design and selection of musical numbers.

Mrs. Osani directed the choral music and members of the Vested Choir enacted the roles from Oklahoma, South Pacific, Carousel, and The King and I. The program was well received and similar musical functions are planned for the future.

LATIN CLUB

L. to R., Top row: Venetta Edgreen, Ann Bayline, Sarah Moshier. Bottom row: Joella Reed, Nancy Gustafson, Hilda Varney. Standing: Mary Kay Bayline, Cynthia Baker, Marcia Bozzo, Dexie Nuss.

Each year a select number of sophomores are accepted into this club. To become eligible for membership, the girls undergo a rigid one-week initiation period. During this time, they must wear signs, carry dolls, put clothing on backwards, braid their hair, and explicitly follow the instructions given to them by the senior members.

The annual spring banquet for the upperclassmen was held last spring. In a Roman setting, the toga-draped junior and senior aristocrats were served and entertained by the sophomore slaves.

LIBRARY CLUB

L. to R.: Joan Price, Millard Reese, Miss Butts, Nancy Crowe, Gloria Shelley, Mary Ford, Frances Niles.

During their free period, club members assist the new librarian, Miss Butts, by repairing, shelving, displaying, and lending books.

They also keep the card catalogue and vertical file up to date. Each member is on duty approximately three times a week.

F.F.A. Advisor Mr. Osani watches as President John Benson presides over the business meeting.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

"Learning to do, doing to learn, earning to live, and living to serve." With the preceding motto in mind, the Future Farmers of America have participated in the following activities: Father-Son Banquet, Parliamentary Procedure, First Penna. F.F.A. District Show, Area Demonstration Meet, F.F.A. Calf Roundup, Area Dairy Judging, Area Safe Tractor Driving, Penna. Farm Show, and the annual F.F.A. Week at Penn State.

Back row, L. to R.: Linda Sullins, Barbara Brown, Joyce Brown, Julie Knowlton, Mrs. Licastro, Mrs. Warner. Front row, L. to R.: Kay Cochran, Faye Boorum, Rick Summerson, Phyllis Reese, Linda Moshier, Karl Micheltisch, Dee Ann Johnson.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Students considering teaching as their profession join the Future Teachers of America so that they may become acquainted with the qualifications and the actual experience of teaching. They have the opportunity of assisting teachers in both the elementary and secondary schools. Through experience the students receive an impression of actual teaching and discover whether or not they are suited for their chosen career.

Officers are Kay Cochran, president, Rick Summerson, vice-president, Joyce Brown, secretary, Barbara Brown, treasurer, and Julie Knowlton, historian.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

Standing: Mary Thompson, Alice Summers, Dorla Turner, Donna Weeks. Seated: Sharon Bloomer, Jean Dates, Judy Redmond, Carolyn Williams.

This organization follows a program set by the state officials. One of their state projects included sending Christmas gifts to children who would otherwise have had no Christmas.

Local activities consisted of selling candy apples, a Christmas party, a trip to the Farm Show with their demonstration team, and a box social.

L. to R. Mr. Petzold, Donald Keech, Wayne Freer, Paul Appleby, Richard Barth, Mike Spangler, Ronnie Falk, Kathy Cookie, Lynn Tilly, Joyce Hamond.

CAMERA CLUB

Members of the Camera Club, under the direction of Mr. Petzold, learn the skills of good picture taking, and become familiar with the necessary equipment used in taking good pictures.

This year the club has acquired a temporary darkroom which enables the members to complete the developing process at school. The members are anxiously awaiting the completion of a new darkroom which will be included in an addition to the building.

PROJECTOR CLUB

Organized under the direction of Mr. Watkins, the Projector Club helps to teach its members the use and appreciation of visual aid equipment. This year the club purchased a film splicer and assisted in the purchase of a film strip cabinet.

True to its tradition, the club planted a hundred scotch pine trees in the community park area.

PUBLICITY CLUB

Publicity Club is composed of twenty-seven Sophomore girls who are taking the Commercial course. These girls, under the direction of Mrs. Glesk, gather school news through observation, interviews, and other sources. They then write and otherwise prepare the news for publication in the REPORTER ARGUS each week. The object of this club is to inform the public of school activities and to gain experience in terse, exact writing. This news is given only for its news value, no personal opinions or conclusions are implied.

One of the Projector Club's meetings during the club activity period.

L. to R. Judy Sullins, Bruce Freeman, Stanley Babola, Bob Carolson, Loretta Clark, Bonnie Doane, James Brundage.

ART CLUB

One of the Art Club projects for the year was the painting of cartoon posters which were placed in the halls of the school.

Four P.A.A.C. members designed and silk-screened the program covers for the fall band concert.

The group, with President George Daniels and Mr. Christensen presiding, discussed and planned for the purchase of art reproductions for the hall. These reproductions were made available through the efforts of the Parent Teachers Association.

JUNIOR TRI-HI-Y

Striving to make our community a better place in which to live, the Junior Tri-Hi-Y enjoyed a very active year. The purpose of the club is to strengthen the bodies, develop the minds, worship

God, and work together in service and in love for a finer Community and a better world. The girls strive for Christian thought, Christian action, and Christian leadership.

BIOLOGY CLUB

Biology Club has existed in school for many years. The club consists of those Freshmen and Sophomore students who are interested in broadening their study of Biology. These students, under the direction of Mr. Bates, have produced slides to further their study. They have seen many biological films designed to help them better understand the world around them.

VARSITY P CLUB

Any boy who earns a varsity letter in either basketball, football, or track automatically becomes a member of the Varsity P Club. Under the direction of Mr. McLaughlin, the boys through various projects attempt to pay for the jackets and sweaters that the seniors have earned.

CONSERVATION FISH AND GAME CLUB

The Conservation Club works closely with local and state groups. Members feed game in the winter, stock fish and plant trees in the spring, and try to preserve the beauty of nature in our area.

This year Bob Knell and Joe Kaziska designed several arm emblems. In a vote, club members chose an insignia which pictures a buck deer. This design is shown in the picture below.

SPORTS

L. to R.: Joyce Brown, Jim O'Connor, Kay Cochran, Grover Neely, Mac Glesk.

FOOTBALL

The 1961 Gators posted a respectable 6-3 slate. It was an all-out "team effort" that brought the Gators a near first place in the Allegany Mountain League and enabled them to retain the Little Four Oil Can trophy.

Perhaps the most obvious factor of the Gators' success was the team's balance in individual ability. Coach Rackish's men combined a potent offense with an almost impenetrable defense. The Little Four Champs were barely nosed out of the AML Championship when Sheffield eked out a 13-12 win in the last twenty-three seconds of the Gators' eighth game.

Port's football fans will remember for quite some time the achievements of the 1961 squad, and with a fighting J. V. team playing most of the second half with Portville they can look forward to a bright 1962 season.

Sterling Baker (36) carries off right tackle. This was the Sheffield game at home on October 28.

Port 0

St. Marys 6

The first contest of the 1961 season found the Gators pitted against the Flying Dutch of St. Marys. The Dutch managed to eke out a touchdown in the fourth quarter over a stubborn Gator defensive line.

Port 13

Otto-Eldred 7

This game with the Otto Terrors was the first game with a "Little Four" competitor. It was also the hardest fought game of the series. John Benson led the Gator's offensive punch and Jim Sherwood sparked the defensive line.

Port 19

Wellsboro 0

In stifling hot 80-90 degree weather, the Port Gators tromped the Wellsboro Hornets scoring all the points in the last half as Half-back Sterling Baker scored twice on runs of 7 and 63 yards. The final tally came as Ray Turner, quarterback, sneaked over from the four. Ken Cornelius sustained Port's strong defensive line play.

Port 7

Emporium 0

The Raiders of Emporium, rated as one of the top teams in the league, were surprised by Port's superb defense sparked by linebackers Glesk and Summerson and defensive half-back Bob Buckheit.

Near the closing moments of the game on a fourth and one situation, Sterling Baker raced 70 yards behind all-out line blocking by Glesk, Kallenborn, Sherwood, Summerson, Tampuu, Cornelius, Buckheit, and wingback Hildreth to score the only touchdown of the game.

Sterling Baker

John Benson

Ray Turner (35) hands off to Malon Postlewait (24) for short gain. The Gators won the Emporium game in the last quarter, 7-0.

Football Seniors

Port 14

Kane 27

Port recovered a fumble in the early minutes of play and Benson featured a drive in which Baker tallied from the seven. The Kane Wolves howled back to make the score 14-7 at the half. In the last half, the Gators came alive as Mac Glesk took a Turner pass in the end zone.

However the Wolves, fired up for their homecoming game, scored two quick T.D.'s in the final period to give Port their worst defeat of the season.

Port 33

Coudersport 7

Recalling the bitter Kane defeat, the Gators roared back to clip the wings of the Coudersport Falcons. Port's offense moved into high gear with tallies by Baker and Hildreth in the first half to put the Gators in a comfortable 27-0 lead at halftime.

Coudersport finally scored in the fourth period and as the game ended Malon Postlewait raced 50 yards to the Falcon 10 for the longest run of the day.

Sterling Baker (36) moves for short yardage with the blocking of Jim Sherwood (21) and Clint Baker.

Kenneth Cornelius

Mac Glesk

Port 25

Smethport 6

In the battle with their traditional rival, Baker, Benson, and Buckheit led the scoring as the Gators piled up an 18-6 halftime margin.

In the second half, the Gators literally put the icing on the Hubbers' cake with another T.D. when Baker galloped 38 yards for the score.

Keith Hildreth (11) and Bob Buckheit (13) double team for a vital pass interception. This action was in the Coudersport game.

Fourth and two Touchdown! Sterling Baker scores in the Emporium Game.

Port 12 Sheffield 13

In a hard fought battle for the league supremacy, the Sheffield Wolverines squeaked out a victory in the last 23 seconds of the game on a point-after touchdown. However, to accomplish this feat they had to crack a stubborn Gator defensive line featuring the play of Ken Cornelius and Corky Baker.

Port 25 Portville 13

In the only game of the season played on a muddy field, the Port Gators blasted Portville with an impressive winged-T attack. The Gators rolled out 399 yards on the ground, most of which was in the first half.

With the J. V.'s taking over in the second half, Portville managed to score twice. Quarterback Ray Turner at all times in control of the game called a variety of plays that demonstrated the versatility of Port's offensive attack.

Keith Hildreth (11) sweeps end. This touchdown was in the 33-7 win over Coudersport.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

For the first time, the Freshmen were an entirely separate unit. This group had their own schedule of four games. In August there were thirty-two candidates. This was by far the best turn-out of ninth graders.

As indicated by the scores, the team started slowly and then gained momentum. Two losses to Smethport were followed by a close game with the Kane Freshmen. The last game was a 19-0 win over Emporium.

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL

With a record of 2 and 1, the J.V.'s enjoyed a good season. Their loss was a 7-0 score to Otto-Eldred.

Led by Pete Simar, Malon Postlewait, and Jim Miller, the group practiced with the Varsity and dressed for all Varsity games. Although seemingly not a separate team, the J.V.'s showed great team spirit and team pride.

Managers: Mike McIver, Jerry Reynolds, Charles Guncheon, and David Stauffer.

Playing for the first time in the new northern-tier of the Allegheny Mountain League, the Gator basketballers were paired against Coudersport, Smethport, Oswayo Valley, Otto-Eldred, Austin, Northern Potter, and Emporium.

The Red Raiders of Emporium, who were the early season pick to win the league, ended the season a decisive first. The Gators along with Coudersport and Oswayo Valley were the other contending clubs.

For the starting varsity squad, Coach Witowski used seniors Jim O'Connor, and Keith Hildreth along with Juniors Ray Turner, Bob Buckheit, Jim Deitrick, Gary Gleason, and Tom Hines. Filling in the squad were Jim Sherwood, Tom Jewart, Rick Summerson, and Dick Kallenborn.

One of the better games of the season was Port's 51-40 home win against Coudersport. In a later game, the Gators managed to hold the league winning Red Raiders to an 18 point win.

Led by play-maker Ray Turner, the Port Gators were mostly a Junior team. With six returning lettermen, the Gators can look forward to a successful season next year.

The Junior Varsity opened the 1961-62 season with Mr. Babcock coaching his first year. Mr. Babcock, lacking experienced players, had to coordinate a new starting line-up, consisting mainly of sophomores Paul Bozzo, Pete Simar, Gary Currie, Ron Mulauski, and freshman Tom Garthawait. The remaining eight freshmen with sophomore Bill Barrho are rapidly gaining experience as the steadily improving J. V.'s are adding decisive victories to their record. They registered two victories over New York's Portville with a 34-27 home win and a 53-33 victory on Portville's home court. The next game was a 49-37 triumph over Austin as the substitutes took over for half the game.

The varsity of next season will be strengthened by the height of the sophomores available for competition.

The season was climaxed for the team at the District meet in which the Gators sent Joe Kaziska, Ron Johnston, Sterling Baker, Bob Boyer, Jerry Goodrich, and John Benson.

The 1962 squad will have 7 returning lettermen and hopes are high on another successful season

With the help of their director, Mrs. Babcock, the cheerleaders put much time and effort toward making their uniforms. They also sold book-covers, school pins, and held a dance to raise money for their new jackets.

Both groups practice each week. A great deal of time has been spent on body movements and in working in unison.

Devoted to their duty of promoting school pride and spirit, the cheerleaders are admired for their leadership.

Senior Class Officers

In September of 1956, one hundred and seven students entered the junior-senior high school and continued their pursuit or push on the door of knowledge. During the six years the class at times reached a total of one hundred thirty-two students. Eighty-nine of these students are now seniors and will receive their diplomas on June 2, 1962.

Of these students, there are thirty-four taking the academic course, fourteen taking the commercial course, thirty taking the vocational course, and eleven taking the general course.

Many of these students will be attempting to open the door of knowledge further by entering college next fall. Others will push the door open in different ways to make a pleasant and useful life for themselves.

ALMA MATER

Although Yale has always favored
The violet's dark blue,
And the gentle sons of Harvard
To the crimson rose are true,
We will hold our lily slender
Nor honor shall it lack While Port Hi stands defender of
The Orange and the Black.

Through the four long years of high school
Mid the scenes we know so well,
As the mystic charm to knowledge
We vainly seek to spell.
Or we win athletic victories
On the football field and track,
Still we work for dear old Port Hi and
The Orange and the Black.

When the cares of life o'ertake us
Mingling fast our locks with gray,
Should our dearest hopes betray us
False fortune fall our way;
Still we banish care and sadness
As we turn our memories back,
And recall those days of gladness
'Neath the Orange and the Black.
